Coloured text under the conversion tier

Black body text, a blue run, a red run, a green one and a grey one; the red recurs here in a second run.

A run whose author declared the ink: it is written as declared and never reaches the table.

A tinted box with a blue border. Only the words are converted; the ground and the border stay as the browser computed them.